It's Not Goodbye, It's Hello!

2020 J-staff,

This hasn't been the end of the year you wanted: the one you dreamed of the last four years, even the one you were still planning for on March 13th.

Your world changed in a moment. Although I know you've been sad, you've adapted. You've shown the world what you're made of, studying for and taking AP exams online, going to work when others couldn't, and watching siblings when essential parents worked, all while mourning your Senior year.

In my Senior high school yearbook, I wrote a sentence that perhaps even has more meaning for you than it did for me way back when.

"It's time to move on; the FUTURE is waiting!" Say hello to your future and know that I'll still be rooting for you, always, no matter how far away you go.

Love,

LMW, adviser
